As far as I know, the dates are fine, but I don't have a good track record of getting approval to attend AREA conferences.

Unknown at this point. FYI, 10/8/19 is Yom Kippur. I don't know if this applies to many or any AREA members.

At the national conference, region members discussed a new format for our business sessions, focusing less on long powerpoint presentations and more on active demonstrations. Each person instead, would have 10 minutes to report out the top 5 new/unique items with their program/state.

Could we provide reports ahead of time and then highlight? More discussion :)

not sure this would get approval for us to go - required now to be presenting to be able to travel out of state

Another recommendation was that, at the end of your 10 minute state report, you could elect to run attendees through an activity, demo, or other unique new thing you are doing. The intention would be to get attendees up and moving and showcase a neat project that they might also use. This would be voluntary and a lot of the equipment you might need could be available. You could have up to 45 minutes

What if your cool project was developing a new partnership? Hard to demo... Could this be a mix?

We should really be spending a lot of time on policy and administrative issues around aquatic and fishing education - R3, volunteer recruitment and management, angling declines, funding, etc. - not so much on content
